

Management - studies in English language

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM IN THE FIELD OF MANAGEMENT

Project specialties:

A: Financial engineering – study program includes requirements of the CFA.

B: Project Management – study program includes PRINCE2 FOUNDATION and IPMA as well as requirement of the Project Management Institute (PMI) z Newtown Square, Pennsylvania, USA.

Advantages of the study field:

- 100% of classes held in English language
- No tuition fee (possible administrative charges)
- Classes provided in international groups
- Teaching program prepared on the basis of the cooperation with business practitioners
- Academic staff – teachers from reputable foreign universities as well as experts and practitioners
- Preparing students to obtain international certificates (TOEIC, SPSS, Chartered Financial Analyst, Prince 2 Foundation, IPMA),
- Preparation to work in international corporations through providing additional classes preparing students to enter the labor market, study visits in companies, practical projects implemented within the cooperation with employers
- Unique specialty of Financial engineering
- Activating teaching methods i.e.: PBL, case study or LbD
- Specialized classes of business English (40 teaching h.) and intercultural communication
- Second foreign language – 360 teaching h. (classes provided in 10-person groups)

International relations - studies in English language

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM IN THE FIELD INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Project specialty: International Business

The specialty is practical what lets students acquire knowledge and competences necessary to function in the international business environment, including national companies as well as global corporations. Students will be acquainted with knowledge and skills concerning global financial systems, finance management in international organizations, international investments management, international strategies of competitiveness, international marketing, management of relations with customers or preparation of international contracts and trade documents. Students will participate in international negotiation workshops.

Advantages of study field:

- 100% of classes held in English language
- No tuition fee (possible administrative charges)
- Classes provided in international groups
- Teaching program prepared on the basis of the cooperation with business practitioners
- Academic staff – teachers from reputable foreign universities as well as experts and practitioners
- Preparation to work in international corporations through providing additional classes preparing students to enter the labor market, study visits in companies, practical projects implemented within the cooperation with employers
- Specialized classes of business English and intercultural communication
- Two additional foreign languages
- Business games, modern education methods: Learning by Developing, case study.

Computer studies - studies in English language

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM IN THE FIELD OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

Project specialties:

- A. Mobile and Cloud computing – issues connected with the sensitivity of computer systems, data security, functioning of security operation departments, ethical hacking, penetration tests, mechanisms of high availability, systems resistant to failures. Classes within the specialty prepare students to obtain CCNA Security certificates).
- B. Security and continuity of IT – issues connected with virtualized infrastructure management, data bases for mobile devices, network operational systems, cloud computing systems architecture, architecture of mobile devices and mobile operational systems, cloud computing systems programming languages. In the framework of classes students create cloud mobile applications.

Strengths of the study field:

- 100% of classes held in English language
- No tuition fee (possible administrative charges)
- Classes provided in international groups
- Teaching program prepared on the basis of cooperation with business practitioners
- Academic staff – teachers from reputable foreign universities as well as experts and practitioners
- Preparation to work in international IT corporations
- Additional classes in the scope of Design Thinking and Problem solving
- Classes delivered by means of the project method – Problem Based Learning, learning by developing
- Study visits in international IT corporations

- Bachelor of Engineering degree
- Special classes in the scope of intercultural communication
- Preparing students to obtain international foreign language and IT certificates (TOEIC, CISCO CCNA Security, Auditor of IT Services Management System),
- Second foreign language – 300 teaching h

Admission procedure:

Enrolment criteria:

1. English test results.
2. Results of interview with candidate (individually or via messenger i.e. Skype) point scale: 0-50
3. Evaluation of high school diploma certificate.
4. Motivations and achievements.